

Dental implant cost and other treatment prices

Dental implants are often used in modern dentistry, so a patient's teeth can be replaced as well as fixed or removable dentures can be placed. Dental implants are artificial tooth roots made of titanium, on which crowns/bridges can be placed in several ways. The dental implant cost depends on the brand/manufacturer.

Dental Clinic "PROSMILE" works with one of the best implantation system - Astra Tech Implant System. Not only the brand (thus also the material) is important, but also the implantologist.

Two-phase implantation and immediately loading implants:

In the two-phase implantation (classic method), the implant is put partially in the bone and then again covered with gums in the first phase. After a 3-6 month healing period, when the implant is rooted, the second phase follows, in which the dental implant abutment is placed on the sessile implant. Then a tooth crown/round bridge/bridge or removable implant-supported full denture is attached to the dental implant abutments. The number of necessary dental implants depends on the number of gaps, bone structure, etc. .

Dental bone grafting:

The difference between “minilift” and “sinus lift” is just the size of the transplant. Minilift is above one or two teeth, sinus lift is at a quadrant, so one side of the jaw. Of course, dental bone grafting of any form is only necessary when there is not enough bone available for an implantation.

Fixed denture and removable denture costs

These examples serve as an indication for dentures cost. Combined dentures are applied in the cases of both complete loss or partial loss of teeth.

The following issues have to be considered when it comes to the cost of dentures:

- The cost of dentures does not cover either the cost of other treatments such as tooth extraction, bone structure augmentation, or the costs of panoramic x-ray and of medication.
- The different procedures or rather approaches can be combined such as the treatment with standard dental implants and zircon (all-ceramics) dental crowns or for example a treatment with premium dental implants and removable dentures.
- Each case is individual. Therefore the following dentures costs represent the average treatment process.
- With the help of modern dental medicine all cases can be supplied or rather provided with a fixed dental denture, which is essentially more convenient and simpler for the patient.

What is a dental crown ?

A crown covers the all or a part of a tooth. It is used for aesthetic and prosthetic purposes, as well as for the abutment of implants.

After the dentist has prepared the tooth or has put the implant abutment on the implant, he takes an impression and sends it to the laboratory, where the crown is made of the ordered material. The finished crown is cemented to the tooth or is cemented the same way or screwed on the implant abutment.

What does the dental crown cost depend on?

The dental crown cost depends on two factors: material usage and type. We use materials made in Western Europe and highest quality equipment in order to provide best possible service to our clients.

Materials that are most commonly used for a dental crown:

- Metal-ceramic – On a metal base (specially alloyed metal) burned porcelain. The porcelain is timeless, does not discolor
- Full-ceramic/zirconia – Completely metal-free, aesthetically the most ideal, as they are the most similar to natural teeth
- Gold-ceramic – Is nowadays only used when someone has a metal allergy
- Plastic – Applied only for temporary restoration. Their useful life is limited until the healing phase (after surgery) to the preparation of the final denture

Cost of a dental crown	USA*	Western Europe*	Serbia
Metal-ceramic dental crown	710 €	589 €	100 €
Zirconia (All-ceramics) dental crown	1190 €	940 €	230 €

Below are two examples that represent whole jaw restorations.

Example 1: Round dental bridge each made of one material: metal-ceramic or zirconia (full ceramic)

Example 2: Round bridge each of two materials: divided bridge units, the back teeth of metal-ceramic and zirconia in the smile zone. The number of metal-ceramic or zirconia crowns/bridge units depends on the size of the smile. This dividing cannot be performed in every case, it depends on many factors.

The treatments with a round dental bridge only serve as information. Get a personalized quote to find out what treatment is necessary for you to restore your smile.
